DIESEL

TECHNICAL BENEFITS

Overall, our gasoline and diesel additives offer the following technical advantages :

- > Engine cleanliness
- > Fuel economy
- > Engine protection (anticorrosion, reduced wear...)
- > Adapted to the latest engine technologies and new generation fuels

WHAT MAKES US SPECIAL

- > Vehicle tests on the latest homologation cycles
- > Support for marketing and the de-banalization of fuels
- > The only additive company inside a major retailer

(1) Intake valve deposits
(2) Direct Injection

BioFuels Additives

Our entire range is developed to be compatible with all fuels and biofuels available in the market.

Additionally, we offer dedicated products for more specific fuels:

- > P 2403FE for E85/E100 high ethanol content
- > AC 3395 for ED95 (ethanol fuel for heavy-duty vehicles)
- > AC 486 for 30 to 100% biodiesel or HVO

B2B Additives for professionals

We offer a new diesel additive specifically designed for B2B use, enabling professionals to leverage the benefits of EXCELLIUM technology without purchasing premium fuel or altering their existing fuel supply.

This unique B2B solution also facilitates the adoption of bio and renewable fuels, providing customers with a risk-free opportunity to switch to lower carbon solutions with the unique technological back-up of a market leader.

Marine Fuel Additives

In the context of the «IMO 2020» evolution, marine fuels can suffer from a variety of problems. We offer a comprehensive range of additives designed to meet these challenges:

- > Low temperature crystallization
- > Asphaltenes inhibition
- > Safe use of biofuels
- > Increase of engine lifetime & performances

After Market Additives

High performance “ready for use” multipurpose B2C additives for gasoline or diesel. Adapted for use with all types of engines and fuels characteristics.
